Reading sheet

GOODBYE, PERFECT

SARA BARNARD

- Do you think Eden should have told an adult about where Bonnie was earlier than she did? When would you have said something?
- The author includes newspaper cuttings in the story. Does the media reflect accurately what is really happening to Bonnie and could they have covered the story better?
- Everyone thinks Bonnie is sensible, a grade-A student. How does the pressure of being 'good' affect young women in real life? And does it get worse or better as you reach exam period?
- How do you think Bonnie's experiences will affect her in later life?
- Do you think the friendship between Eden and Bonnie will survive after the end of the novel? Give reasons for your answer.
